Norwitheranding the inclement weather last Saturday afternoon, the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Fourth Street M. E. Church held their meeting as previously announced. A carefully prepared programme was presented. Miss Emma Fowler read a paper on Alaska, which deserves especial commendation. A vocal duette by the Misses Kendall, of the College, was well received, as are all the effors of these popular young vocalists. The address of the Rev. Dr. smith before the society, was repliets with thought, advice and encouragement. These meetings are growing in interest and attendance.

Last night about half-past eleven o'clock Law right about hair-past eleven of clock as Officer Belleville was passing Lutz's saloon, on Market street, he heard loud voices inside. Stepping inside, he found Frank, the proprietor, talking with his younger brother, Bob, who had been drinking and was quarrelsome. Belleville was told that there had been a little trouble, but that it would all be fixed un and he started to go.

there had been a little trouble, but that would all be fired up, and he started to go. As he reached the door, some one called, 'Oh' I come and take him,' and Frank started away from Bob. Belleville advanced, when Bob struck at him, knocking off his hat, and then datted out the back door. Belleville blew his whistle and started after his man. He co locked him up. He caught him on the wharf and

This titled gentleman had retired, but an intimation of the cause of the reporter's visit brought him out, and he came down stairs wearing a perplexed expression and embroidered slippers. The dispatch was shown him, and he read it over twice and then laughed heartily, "They must have a funny man on the Associated press at Pittsburgh. Here, look at the official programme of the Festival. If you can find Md'one Hauk announced to perform there to-night I will give you—well, $5 000. Is that enough?"

The reporter looked assiduously, but could not claim the munificent sum offered.

The Chevalier continued: "Madame Hauk is announced for the Festival in Pittsburgh for one concert and one matinee, for which she receives one thousand dollars. She will make her first appearance to-morrow, Tuesday, at 9 p. M., in the great Treischeret air and as Elsa in Wagner's Lobengrin. The prospects for a large excursion list are excellent. The Opera House band, both brass and string, has been engaged for the trip, so that there will be no lack of promenade and dancing music. Colonel Wood will as usual look after the table. Messrs, Noil and Knox will welcome guests in the office and Captain Muhieman will see to it that no one fares ill. Those entertaining gentlemen, Pilots Abrams, Corns and Muhieman, as a matter of course are on the Andes, and will do the agreeable to all callers in the pilot house. The Andes is large and roomy, has airy staterooms and for that reason Captain Muhleman wants everyone to be on board by 3 o'clock this afternoon. The weather is becoming delightful, and a trip on the Andes cannot fail to be enjoyable. The boat will arrive in Cincinnati Thursday noon and not leave until midnight on Friday.

A Serious Accident.

About five o'clock last evening a serious accident occurred on Eoff street, at the mouth of the alley adjoining the Linaly Iostitute. A son of Nr. R. J. Smyth was riding a horse belonging to N. Schulz up Chapline street, when it became unmansgable and started at a break-neck pace up the alley. Just after entering the alley ine boy was thrown off, and sightly hurt. The horse continued at a still faster pace up the alley, and leaped out upon Eoff street just as Sam Lenhart, the Island ice man, was passing by in a bugsy, drawn by his gray horse. Mr. Schulz's horse collided with the bugsy, upsetting it and completely demolishing it, at well as badly wounding one of the horse's legs. Mr. Lenhart received some bad bruises on one of his knees, but was able to take the horse home. A Serious Accident.

The colored folks have a Lycsum, which is well attended, and the weekly meesings of which do much to create an interest in literary matters. Last night the weekly session was held in the Eoff Street Church, and an interesting programme was rendered. Miss Lizzie White gave a select reading; Miss Gardner and Mrs. Learoline Thompson read essays, and Mr. D. Beasley and Miss Estella Grant read the society paper, The Literary Star. A debate followed, the question being, "Is the existence of politics in a State favorable to the public welfare?" Messra. Alex. Turner and E M. Rowles maintained the affirmative, and Messra. Robert Strange and George W. Hollinger the regative. The latter were awarded the palm by the audience.

ever been offered by any Association in the city.

A share will represent $150 and the weekly dues required to be paid thereon is 25 cents. Any member borrowing will receive the full amount of a share, $150, and will pay interest weekly only on the actual amount of money received and such weekly premium as may be bid for precedence in making a loan.

Any share holder who may want to withdraw before the end of the Association can have his money refunded at any time, and receive 0 per cent interest.

If shares have been borrowed out, the member can refund to the Association the actual amount of money borrowed, receiving credit for all money paid, and have his deed of trust released.

By adopting this plan it overcomes all complications, and makes the calculation so simple that any one can understand.

The stock books will remain open for a short time to allow all persons desiring an opportuaity to subscribe.
